Enjoy Walking your dog Again!

The Canny Collar is a new and unique dog training collar which has been designed to help stop your dog pulling on the lead and to give you a more comfortable experience when dog walking. The canny collar is unlike a headcollar. It is made up of simple conventional collar with a slip line that fits over the nose of your dog. It is completely safe and kind to your dog. It does not jerk the head to one side and does not ride up into the eyes like head collars.

The Canny Collar design allows the lead to be fastened behind the head. This innovative design makes it one of the best products to date for walking your dog.

Dog walking is easy

The Canny Collar simple 'pressure and release' system stops your dog from pulling on the lead.

When your dog pulls on the lead the collar applies gentle pressure to the bridge of the snout. As soon as he stops pulling the pressure is released. Your dog learns by his own accord that if he doesn't pull the nose loop remains loose. This method of training allows the dog to see very quickly that walking to heel is the best practice. Results have been seen within minutes of using the collar but some dogs may take a little longer to become accustomed.

Dog training has never been easier! Its unique design means the single slip line over your dog's nose looks unobtrusive and kinder to your dog. It can be used like a conventional collar by alternately flicking the slip line on and off your dog's nose, eventually training him to walk on a conventional flat collar. It can also be left on your dog when he is let off lead by using the optional carabiner clips.

The Canny Collar is a quality product and made from the finest webbing. It comes in seven (7) different sizes so there is a range for practically every size and breed of dog. With this revolutionary collar dog behaviour problems on lead are a thing of the past. Make your dog training easy and give yourself complete control over who takes who for a walk!

The Canny Collar was voted the Best New Product for 2006 by the Pet Product Retail Association in the UK. The award, which recognises excellence within the pet product industry, was presented at the Glee Pet Index International Exhibition on 17 September 2006.

Over 60,000 Canny Collar have been sold since the product was launched at the Glee 2004 pet exhibition and demand is escalating as dog trainers, vets, pet product retailers and dog owners discover its unique features and benefits and outstanding results.

Not another headcollar!?

The Canny Collar is not a dog headcollar but should be thought of more as a dog training collar. A headcollar, as the name suggests, encompasses the whole of your dog's head. It fits only around the snout so that your dog is less restricted and more comfortable.

The Canny Collar does not jerk the head sideways (which in some cases can cause injury to your dog's neck) nor ride up into the eyes. As it operates from both sides of your dog's head, gentle pressure is all that is needed for it to work. It is a kind, safe and effective method of dog training.

The other main difference between a Canny Collar and a headcollar is that because it fastens behind your dog's head, by keeping the dog lead short but loose he cannot paw it off his face nor become tangled in the dog lead.

Trials have shown that dogs accept it, for dog lead training, comparatively quickly and easily when compared to a dog headcollar.

The Canny Collar looks unobtrusive and the range of sizes ensures that there is a collar just the right size for your dog training.

Pulling on the lead is a thing of the past. Make dog training easy and give yourself complete control over who takes who for a walk!
